

Envoy Agents Need Representation Just Like the Rest of the New American Airlines Family!

Passenger service workers are represented by the Communications Workers of America at Legacy American Airlines, Legacy US Airways and Piedmont Airways. We deserve rights and respect at Envoy Air too!

"We did it united, we weren't divided, we did it with CWA! YOU CAN TO!"

-Victoria Garcia, American Airlines, LAX

"Finally, after years of fighting for a voice we finally did it with CWA! It's time you had a voice too!"

-Marie Raquel, American Airlines, LAX

When agents and representatives at the new American Airlines voted overwhelmingly in favor of representation September 16th, they showed management that when it comes to achieving fair pay, equal treatment and job security, workers are willing to fight one day longer, one day stronger. Today at Envoy Air, we have the chance to build on the momentum from their win to finally win our own voice at work. The new American Airlines family has a bright future and windfalls of profit to look forward to, let's make sure we get our fair share of that at Envoy Air.

"Legacy American Airlines agents did it. Now it's your turn to do it! We will stand with you for as long as it takes."

-Marie Sutton, American Airlines, ORD

"I invite our Envoy agents to join us for a true say in your wages, working conditions, and benefits. In this ever changing industry having a union contract is the difference between a "job" and a "career"."

-Wanda Figueroa, American Airlines, DFW

"We stuck together, overcame many obstacles, and now we have a strong union at American. If we could do it, so can you!"

-Roxanne Hartfield, American Airlines, LGA
